Jap Rail Thrust

Attempting to reach the Bengal-Assam railroad lines (A) Jap forces invading India are reported to have taken a strip of highway between the supply bases of Imphal and Kohima (B) but are meeting with stiff resistance. The Japs are claiming gains at Tamu (C), an important link in the road. (International)

Washington Roundup

(International News Service)
Today is the eve of the second anniversary of the fall of Bataan and Pacific developments lead to belief in Washington that American forces will invade the Jap-held Philippines before the end of this year. One of these developments is the smashing attack on Palau, less than 500 miles from the Philippines, which is now disclosed to have resulted in 46 Japanese ships and 214 planes being destroyed or damaged.

One of the nurses that saw the fall of Bataan two years ago says she is just waiting to go back there with invading American troops. She is Maj. Juanita Redmond. In an interview today the heroic nurse says "I hope American forces go back to Bataan soon and I want terribly to be right up there with them."

With the Pacific drive stepping up and the European invasion forthcoming, draft boards have orders to be strict on deferments in the 28 to 30 age group. Boards will be lenient on registrants over 30, particularly fathers. At the same time, pressure is being increased to get 4-F's into war work.

Meanwhile, a congressional movement is underway to assure members of the armed forces a 30-day furlough at home after two years of foreign service. The proposal, designed to put legislative sanction behind a general policy of the War Department, will be made in both the house and senate.

On the diplomatic front, it is revealed that both the United States and British governments took action to prevent Henri Giraud from resigning as commander-in-chief of the French forces.

PA NEWC Observes

Tomorrow marks the second anniversary of the fall of Bataan after the heroic defense of that Philippine sector by the American and Filipino troops. Special observance of the anniversary is arranged in some parts of the nation, and plans seem to be speeding toward the day when American forces will go back to the Philippines to oust the Japs.

Spring is here. There's no disputing the assertion. Here's the reason: Wallace Bros. circus has been given a permit to show at Franklin and Winslow avenues May 5. The sanction was issued by Mayor John F. Haven, Friday.

Despite the conditions in many parts of Western Pennsylvania due to prevalence of rabies, dogs are still to be found running at large in New Castle and Lawrence county areas. Pa Newc is informed. It is against the law to allow dogs to run at large in this state.

Weather forecasts are still uncertain as to the nature of Easter weather that will be experienced here on Sunday. There are hopes, however, of springlike weather that will be sort of in keeping with Easter traditions.

Victory gardeners are hoping for a break in the weather that will allow early planting and garden efforts to get under way. Few Victory Gardeners have been able to accomplish much as yet this season.

Trapped German Force Of 50,000 Is Being Hammered

Russian Forces Now Only Nine And Half Miles From Odessa

'SUICIDE SQUADRONS' OF NAZIS AID DEFENSE

By NATALIA RENE
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 8.—Russian tanks, guns and motorized infantry hammered at a German force of some 50,000 troops trapped northwest of Odessa today as other Soviet columns closed in on the Black Sea port from siege positions less than nine-and-a-half miles away.

More than 5,000 of the encircled Nazi troops already have been wiped out in a bloody battle of annihilation near Radzelnyia, 40 miles northwest of half-surrounded Odessa, the Soviet high command announced.

Nazi 'Suicide Squads'

From the naval base, elite Nazi "Suicide Squads" rushed to defense lines in the suburbs under orders to check the Russian steamroller advance at all costs, but were being steadily cut down by hard-riding Cossacks and infantrymen of the Third Ukrainian Army.

The mud-sodden Germans, 9,000 of whom have been killed and 1,000 captured in the past two days, yielded the town of Novaya Dofinovka to the Russians, giving Marshal Rodio Y. Malinovsky's troops a base only nine and a half miles north-east of Odessa.

Scant Respite Given To Japs

PEARL HARBOR, April 8.—(INS)—Summing up the campaign against Japanese Central Pacific island targets which started in early November last year, Maj. Gen. Willis H. Hale announced today that his Seventh Army Air Force has given Jap bases a breathing spell on but twelve days out of the last five months.

Jap Central Pacific bases had respite from the Seventh AAF bombers on but one day out of every two weeks during the past five months, General Hale said.

Starting the Central Pacific offensive with attacks against the Gilbert Islands early in November, the Seventh bombers attacked Tarawa and Makin in pre-invasion sorties and then extended their range to the Marshalls group where they neutralized airbases on every major enemy target including the atolls of Mille, Wotje, Maloelap and Kwajalein. The far-reaching bombers destroyed a seaplane base on Jaluit and also hit Arno atoll in the Marshalls to forestall Jap aerial interception of United States invading forces.

Two Enginemen Killed In Wreck

COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—(INS)—Wreck crews removed wreckage today of the New York Central railroad which was derailed about 15 miles west of Columbus near London yesterday, killing the engineer and fireman.

John Nelson, 61, engineer, and Clarence C. Martin, 46, fireman, both of Columbus, were the casualties. Thirteen others, including eight soldiers, returning home on Easter furloughs, were injured. All were released after treatment at a Columbus hospital.

Railroad officials, who began an immediate investigation into the cause of the derailment, said it was believed that a switch at a siding had been left open.

Bataan Anniversary Sees Pacific Progress

By JOSEPH A. BORS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The eve of the second anniversary of the fall of Bataan Peninsula in the Philippines found American land, sea and air forces making steady progress across the Pacific today in the drive to liberate the commonwealth from the grip of the Japanese.

The Navy inadvertently marked the anniversary by announcing that 46 Japanese ships and 214 enemy planes were destroyed or damaged by the powerful United States fleet task force in the recent smashing raid against Palau, less than 500 miles from the Philippines.

Invasion Looming
This stunning American victory and other developments indicated strongly that before the end of the year American and Filipino forces again may be battling side by side against the Japs in the Philippines.

Officially there was no observance of the second anniversary of the fall of Bataan, April 9, 1942. Since then American and Allied forces have smashed back the Japanese in the Aleutians, the Gilberts, the Marshalls, the Solomons and the Southwest Pacific.

This in a little more than two years the U. S. Pacific fleet rose from disaster at Pearl Harbor to a position where it dominates most of the Pacific and is ready to strike into the inner defense ring of Japan's stolen Pacific empire.

U. S. Airmen Smash New Jap Base To Prevent Aid To Hollandia

OTHER JAP BASES ARE ALSO POUNDED
By GEORGE LAIT
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, April 8.—Veteran American airmen pursuing a new campaign to prevent reinforcement of the neutralized Hollandia base have hit the Japanese staging airbase on Wakde Island for the first time, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters revealed today.

Huge four-motored and twin-engined U. S. bombers heavily damaged installations on Wakde Island, roughly 110 miles west of Hollandia, which had been pounded into wreckage by two waves of bombs in two earlier raids this week.

Devastating Attack
Twenty-nine tons of high explosives, dropping on Wakde with devastating effect, lit fires visible for some 50 miles and touched off violent explosions. The heavy and medium warplanes unloaded their bombs on airbase personnel areas and along runways from which Japanese planes often soared into the (Continued On Page Two)

Bomber With 11 Of Crew Missing

NEW YORK, April 8.—(INS)—The Eastern Defense Command announced today that a search was being made off the east coast by all available Army and Naval air and surface craft for a heavy Army bomber, with 11 crew members aboard, missing from Westover Field, Mass., since late last night.

The bomber left the base yesterday afternoon on a combat training mission together with several other heavy bombers. It was last heard from at approximately 9:30 p. m. E. W. T., about 25 miles south of Montauk Point, L. I. The others returned safely.

The crew included:
Second Lt. Frederick G. Rhodes, 928 Second avenue, Altoona, Pa., bombardier.

Capt. Gentile May Be Leading Ace

LONDON, April 8.—(INS)—Capt. Don S. Gentile, fighter pilot with the eighth U. S. air force in Britain, was a strong contender today for the title of leading American ace of World War II.

Gentile, whose home is in Piqua, O., may tie or pass the record of 26 destroyed enemy planes, chalked up in World War I by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker and in Pacific campaigns of this war by Maj. Joe Foss of Sioux Falls, S. D.

Gentile has been credited with 22 confirmed "kills," and it was learned that he has put in claims for three more destroyed Nazi planes and two probables.

Bulgaria May Oust Hitlerites

Reports That Nation May Overthrow Pro-Nazi Regime And Join Allies
By LEE CARSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 8.—Bulgaria, long chafing under a pro-Nazi regime, today was expected to take advantage of Rumania's invasion and probably forthcoming armistice to overthrow the dominant handful of Hitlerites and join the allies.

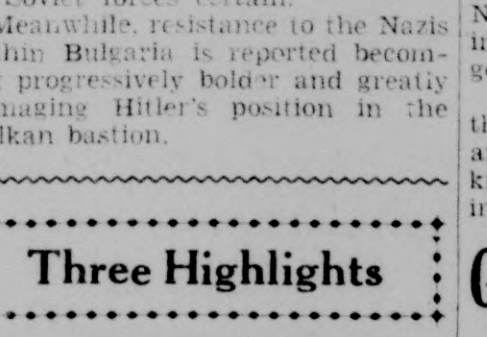

Neutral travelers coming out of Bulgaria consistently report that the majority of Bulgars and army members are pro-Russians, who are anxious both to join the red army, and to oust the Germans and the Nazi influence from their homeland.

Recent Position
Since the death of King Boris, these sources say, the Bulgarians have become increasingly open in their resentment at their satellite position, and discipline in the armed forces is rapidly disintegrating.

The feeling has prevailed in London for some time that as soon as the Russians either appear on the Eulcar-Rumanian border or force Rumania out of the war, the Bulgarians will swing over to the allied side. However, the Bulgarian situation was not expected to clear up until a Rumanian armistice was definite and the immediate support of Soviet forces certain.

Meanwhile, resistance to the Nazis within Bulgaria is reported becoming progressively bolder and greatly damaging Hitler's position in the Balkan bastion.

Three Highlights

Showdowns are near at hand in the three crucial Red drives shown on the map. Russian storm troops have reached the Odessa suburbs (1) and cutting of the rail line may trap 100,000 or more Germans just north of the vital seaport. The Nazis are reported forming a desperate defense zone from Galatz to Focani (2) to hold the Ploesti oil belt which has been bombed by U. S. planes, while Rumania is rumored in a panic. To the north (3) some 15,000 Nazis in Tarnopol are reported trapped. (International)

British Destroyer Joins Anzio Attack

NAPLES, April 8.—(INS)—A British destroyer was revealed today to have joined allied big guns in pounding Nazi positions on the Anzio beachhead.

An allied headquarters communique also announced that artillery duels and patrol clashes continued on all three Italian fronts.

On the Anzio front, an American combat patrol established a new strongpoint after a clash with the Nazis.

In the air, planes of the Mediterranean air forces flew approximately 1,700 sorties Friday, the communique said.

DESERI HITLER
MOSCOW, April 8.—(INS)—The Soviet Tass news agency, quoting a dispatch to the Stockholm newspaper Aftonbladet, reported today that 5,000 Hungarian troops have deserted and gone over to partisan forces organized by Marshal Josip (Tito) Broz.

Third Wartime Easter Observance Sunday

For the third consecutive year the United States of America will celebrate the Resurrection of the Prince of Peace tomorrow while over the world, nations are at each other's throats in war.

Over here the day will be marked by peaceful services in churches and cathedrals—over there the day will be marked by the whine of shells and the rattle of musketry. Over here children will search gleefully for Easter eggs; over there, bombers will drop their "eggs of death" upon cities and armies.

This Easter will be observed more seriously perhaps than any Easter in the past century. The usual display of colorful clothes will be a part of the day but nothing like it usually is. The prevailing color of clothes for this Easter will be olive drab and Navy blue.

Sharp Clash On Central Anzio Front In Italy

By JAMES L. KILGALLIN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NAPLES, April 8.—Grenade-hurling American troops were revealed today to have established a new strongpoint in the central sector of the Anzio front after a sharp clash with Nazi forces northwest of Padiglione.

Frequent patrol clashes and violent artillery duels continued to rock the front south of Rome, allied headquarters said, but a spokesman indicated the Germans still maintain "a defensive attitude."

Artillery exchanges and skirmishes interrupted the lull on the Cassino front, where two enemy patrols were repulsed northeast of the bottleneck town.

German and allied guns boomed on all three Italian fronts. A British (Continued On Page Two)

Rush Suspect To State Prison

McALESTER, Okla., April 8.—(INS)—Clifford Norman, 29, itinerant negro railroad worker who confessed to criminally assaulting and then shooting a young woman was in the state penitentiary at McAlester today.

Norman was brought to the state prison yesterday after residents of Davis, where the attack occurred, began collecting at the county jail at Sulphur, where he was held.

Mrs. Kathleen Bowser, 21, victim of the assault, was in a critical condition today from a bullet wound through the mouth and numerous knife wounds. Officers said she identified Norman as her assailant.

New Cruelties Are Reported In Norway

LONDON, April 8.—(INS)—Nazi authorities in Norway are using increasingly cruel methods of torture in a new wave of terror against Norwegian patriots, according to information reaching the Norwegian government-in-exile today.

The government statement said the Germans place iron rings around their victims' wrists and knees and screw the rings slowly into the flesh and bone.

German Prisoners At Camp Reynolds

GREENVILLE, Pa., April 8.—(INS)—Brig. Gen. Jesse A. Ladd, commandant, today announced that an undisclosed number of German war prisoners are interned at Camp Reynolds.

The prisoners will be given a suitable program of work and recreation in accordance with provisions of the Geneva convention, Gen. Ladd said. He declined to add any further information.

REPORT LATVIA ATTACKED
NEW YORK, April 8.—(INS)—The Swedish radio reported today that Russian bombers attacked the Latvian railway center of Rezekne yesterday.

Huge Jap Losses Are Revealed In Attack On Palau

Forty-Six Jap Vessels And 214 Planes Sunk Or Damaged In Assault

NAVAL BASE ALSO LEFT IN WRECKAGE

By CLINTON GREEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, April 8.—Japan's once bristling and secure Palau naval base was a fire and shell charred wreck today after a smashing attack by United States Pacific fleet forces which destroyed or damaged 46 Jap vessels, including a battleship, and 214 enemy planes.

The enemy battlewagon attempted to flee Palau waters with other units of the imperial Japanese fleet on the evening of March 28, the night before a mighty American armada of ships and planes materialized from all directions to blast the bewildered Nipponese not only at Palau but at the three other enemy island strongholds on the doorsteps to the Philippines.

Dreadnaught Torpedoed
A submarine in the van of the onrushing United States fleet torpedoed the mikado's dreadnaught, inflicting serious damage, but he managed to limp away at slow speed under the protection of a destroyer escort.

The gigantic assault on bases the Japs defiantly thought were secure was executed March 29, 30 and 31 and directed mainly against Palau islands, within 500 miles of Mindanao islands, largest of the Philippines. Task forces of the main battle fleet struck out to hit enemy installations on Yap, Woleai and Ulithi in the westernmost Carolines. Flaming havoc was wrought to Jap shore facilities under a torrent of shells and bombs and not one of the American war vessels was (Continued On Page Two)

British Imperial Forces Improve Positions In One Sector Of Front

JAPS IMPERIL VITAL RAILROAD

By JAMES E. BROWN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, April 8.—British Imperial forces, counter-attacking in the hills overlooking the Imphal plain, occupied improved positions today although farther north the Japanese invasion forces in India pursued their two-pronged drive swinging around Kohima to imperil the vital Bengal-Assam railroad.

Of the action around Kohima, where the Japs drove one wedge across the highway south of Imphal and pushed another through the Negai hills to within 49 miles of the Dinapur terminal on the railroad supplying Allied troops in Burma.

Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's communique admitted continued pressure by the enemy.

Youthful Robbers Slay Barberton Cafe Operator

AKRON, O., April 8.—(INS)—Police of neighboring Barberton intensified their search today for a gang of three youths who shot and fatally wounded a father of six children during their attempted "wild west style" holdup of a cafe.

The victim was Charles Dent, 41. As the youths entered the cafe, one fired his revolver and a second turned out the lights.

When Dent stood up and asked "Are you kidding?", his reply was a volley from the gun of the youngest robber.

Helen Keller To Visit Deshon

BUTLER, Pa., April 8.—(INS)—Helen Keller was scheduled to visit the Deshon hospital at Butler next Wednesday.

Officers at the institution announced she will inspect the work being done to rehabilitate the hard of hearing and deaf soldiers. Deshon is one of three army hospitals in the country working on this type of case.

WOMAN IS KILLED

CORAOPOIS, Pa., April 8.—(INS)—Mrs. Mildred Belgie Kulak, 23, wife of a soldier, was dead and Edward Yost, 34, was in Sewickley Valley hospital today after their car crashed as they were returning home from work in a war plant.

Witnesses said the car, driven by Yost, skidded into a tree near Coraopolis Heights during a heavy rainstorm.

The ladies scan the Easter sky and hope is in their faces, they only ask tomorrow they will be right in the graces of the man who sends the sun and rain, who keeps the breezes warm, they do not want a chilly day or one of rain or storm. Those gowns and hats they have laid by should be in the parade on Easter day but should it storm I'm very much afraid, they'll wear their furs and woolen scarves, oh me 'twould be a fix, for ladies like to strut their stuff, it's damp and fifty-six.

Urge Immediate Action On Price Control Measure

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(INS)—Two Senate Banking committee members urged immediate action today on the proposed renewal of the price control act for one year after June 30 to alleviate widespread uncertainty among consumers and businessmen.

"I believe we should enact legislation just as soon as possible for extension of the price control act, with whatever changes should be made in it," said Senator Maybank (D, S. C.).

"I am opposed to delay. Delay is the worst thing that can happen because it leaves business and the people in a state of uncertainty," Senator Danaher (R, Conn.), suggested that the committee consider specific proposals to the price control act as a means of expediting its hearings and paving the way for contemplated changes.

"I suggest that we sit down and consider what amendments may be proposed to the price control act," he said, "and then when we hear witnesses, ask them to testify on the proposals. As it is, we are proceeding in the dark."

the day with special services. The forty days of Lent will be past, the dark period of the crucifixion gives way to the glorious Easter morn, but over the calm and reverence of the services still will hang the shadow of the war.

Locally the churches all have special programs marking the day. In some instances sunrise services will be held but without exception the morning service of the churches will be given over to the remembrance of the miracle of the resurrection nearly twenty centuries ago.

Merchants report heavy sales of clothing, hats and shoes with the variety sharply restricted. Florists and candy shops report a heavy demand with the supply limited.

Another Easter Day with only a few spots in the world in shape to celebrate it as their consciences dictate. And while the services are held, millions of men are fighting that the world may have restored to it, the right to celebrate the day in peace and reverence.

Periodically, MacArthur has reiterated his promise to return to the Philippines and liberate the residents who supported him during the dark days on Bataan.

ish destroyer added its fire power to that of field guns, pounding Nazi positions surrounding the Anzio beachhead perimeter.

Along the lower Garigliano river, British positions were hammered heavily by German guns, but fifth army artillery batteries responded "with good effect."

Bomb Rome Area

In the air, Mediterranean-based warplanes flew more than 1,700 sorties against enemy communication targets, concentrating on objectives north of Rome and in the Po valley. Huge Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by fighters, smashed at railroad yards at Mestri, Bologna, Treviso, Ferrara and at two rail bridges at Senigallia. Twin-motored Marauders pummeled rail yards at Prate and bridges at Pontassieve and Incisa while Mitchells struck at bridges southwest of Fieulle and south of Arezzo.

Other Marauders and British bombers hit the Terni hydro-electric works, destroying four Nazi planes that attempted to disrupt the attacks.

During the Liberators assault on Mestri and Senigallia, 26 out of 75 Nazi planes that intercepted the raiding formations were blasted out of the skies by escorting Lightnings and bomber gunners.

engagement has taken place," the bulletin declared.

(A Japanese high command communication, however, claimed that Jap troops captured the Kohima communications center, only 25 miles from Dinapur, "in cooperation with the Indian National army." The enemy broadcast said Kohima was occupied Thursday morning.)

Counterattacking in a bid to ward off a Japanese siege assault against the Imphal base, the British troops drove the enemy from "an important feature" in the northern sector of the hills dominating the Imphal plain. At least one other key position in the rugged country was occupied, the communication said.

In Burma, other Allied troops gained important positions in the Arakan area. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Japanese when an English battalion captured what was described officially as an "important village position" southwest of Buthidaung. To the east of this sector, the enemy staged a series of counterattacks against Indian troops but all were repelled.

"The Japanese were driven off in confusion," headquarters announced. "Our operations against enemy lines of communications west of the Chinindwin river continue."

Allied aircraft also concentrated on the Jap communications lines, oil and supply concentrations. Medium bombers, divebombers and fighter bombers were in strength. In the Manywet district they hit oil dumps, causing "widespread fires."

The communication made no mention of the action of American and Chinese forces driving through northern Burma toward the rail terminal of Myitkyina.

The Japanese advance toward the Bengal-Assam railroad constitutes a growing threat to these Allied forces in northern Burma.

Dramatic Rescue Of Fliers Related

Detroit Sergeant Reveals Details Of Rescue At Truk Operations

By JOHN HENRY (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

AN ADVANCED THIRTEENTH AAF AIRDROME, South Pacific—(Delayed)—April 5.—The success of the recent rescue of thirteen Air Force bombing missions against Truk on March 29-30 and April 2 was pointed out today through recapitulation of results but a sad-eyed, redheaded sergeant is the man of the moment today at this coral paved landing base.

Staff Sergeant Phil H. Rouleau, Detroit, Mich., walked into the intelligence office with an account of a dramatic rescue of seven B-24 crewmen shot down in the April 2 raid. Rouleau described how his plane shot down three Jap fighters and laid its bombs on Dublon Island before going down in the ocean.

Rouleau, the ball turret gunner, accounted for two Zeros. In addition another enemy fighter plane was blasted from the skies and a fourth listed as a "probable" for the ill-fated B-24.

Rouleau related how all aboard realized they would be forced down in the ocean after being hit by Jap gunfire.

"We jettisoned everything we could," he said, "and even backed away the top turret and tossed it overboard. All of us except the pilot and co-pilot crowded into the tail of the plane as we slid toward the water. Our vertical stabilizers were blown off, the gas lines busted and the ship was riddled with 7.7 shell holes. Hitting the water wasn't bad but one of the props came off and sliced off the nose of the plane, killing the pilot and co-pilot."

"Luckily I was tossed clear and heard the screams of others still in the plane and helped pull them out."

Rouleau's luck was merely an extension from the air battle since he was the only one of the crew not wounded.

The sergeant passed up the opportunity to go the rest area where his fellow crewmen were hospitalized and showed up here to make a report to intelligence officers.

marsh land almost to the mouth of the Dniester and seized the Nazi stronghold of Belyayevka, 21 miles due west of Odessa.

Last Land Route At Belyayevka, the Russians were less than 19 miles northwest of Odipolod, eastern terminal of a main railroad crossing a six-mile wide lagoon to Akkerman, in lower Bessarabia. This is the last land route of escape still open to an estimated 100,000 to 140,000 German and Rumanian troops holding a shrinking salient along the shores of the Black Sea.

A Moscow dispatch to Reuters said the Red army has reached the beaches east of Odessa. From positions taken by storm during the night, the Russians can look directly into the city of Odessa, now virtually isolated, said the dispatch. Soviet airmen, Reuters said, are pounding the ferry line to Akkerman from the Dniester estuary to prevent any Nazi evacuation.

Sixty Towns Seized More than 60 towns and villages were seized as Malinovsky's columns bore down on Odessa, reaching siege gun range at a number of points.

Red army troops between the middle Dniester and the Prut rivers meanwhile captured the key Nazi stronghold of Orgeev and crossed the Rautul river, last natural barrier on the road to the Bessarabian capital and rail junction of Kishinev, 22 miles south of Orgeev.

In the Carpathian foothills Marshal Gregory Zhukov's troops threatened a strangling ring around the battered remnants of 15 German divisions trapped in the Skala area. At Tarnopol, in pre-war Poland, Russian forces beat down Nazi attempts to break through and relieve the encircled German garrison.

AIR RAIDERS HIT BRUNSWICK AND NORTHERN REICH

capital. The DNB announcement declared that the American attackers were "heavily defeated" and were "unable to cross the Elbe river."

The DNB announcement marked the first time that any Nazi source went so far as to say that the heavy bombers were blocked in their attempts to penetrate the Reich and near destruction on Berlin.

Waves Of Planes Coastal observers reported that waves of Allied planes headed across the Straits of Dover in considerable force almost continually during the day, indicating that the Anglo-American pre-invasion offensive hadn't been slowed down at all.

Late in the day, 3, Ninth Air Force communique reported that Marauders had attacked targets in Belgium during the afternoon, with the U. S. planes hitting a rail center and an airdrome. Thunderbolts which accompanied the bombers as an escort also blasted targets in the area. It was announced.

The Nazi propaganda broadcast which followed announcement of Goebbels' appointment claimed that American bombers had "attempted" to raid Berlin this afternoon.

HUGE JAP LOSSES ARE REVEALED IN ATTACK ON PALAU

so much as flicked by an enemy bullet during the surprise stroke. United States losses were 25 planes and 18 naval airmen missing.

Results Announced Enemy and American losses provided a staggering contrast when considered in the light of an attack started at the front door of the Philippines, where the Jap scored his initial important conquests of American territory. Jap ship losses announced by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of Pacific ocean area forces, were:

Sunk Two destroyers. One combat ship. Two large cargo vessels. Six medium cargo vessels. Three large oilers. One medium oiler. One small oiler. One patrol vessel. Three small ships. Eight cargo ships.

Damaged One battleship. One destroyer. One large repair ship. One medium oiler. Two small oilers. Nine cargo vessels. One large cargo vessel. Two medium cargo vessels.

Planes Destroyed 160, probably destroyed 54, making a probable grand total of 214.

Most Powerful Force Admiral Nimitz's communique naturally made no mention of the present whereabouts of the still intact fleet which conducted the assault under the tactical command of Adm. R. A. Spruance. The great naval armada, including battleships, carriers and cruisers, was described by a headquarters spokesman as "the most powerful striking force assembled in the Pacific for a single operation."

Of the 46 Jap ships sunk or damaged, the other 18 left alive or beached. In addition to these 46, several small enemy craft were sunk at Ulithi and Woleai.

Of the 214 enemy planes hit by American fire, 160 were blasted into the wreckage and the remaining 54 so badly damaged that their probable destruction could be assumed.

Enemy casualties ashore or aboard ships and planes were estimated conclusively to number in the thousands. Many undoubtedly perished in shattered buildings, hangars, warehouses, docks, supply areas and other land installations.

It was officially stated also that it will require months for the Japs to clear wreckage and repair the enormous damage.

WAKDE ISLAND BOMBERS TARGET air en route to replenish Hollandia and much-battered Wewak.

During the two raids on Hollandia earlier in the week, the last of some 300 Jap planes were wiped out. The Wednesday night assault on Wakde obviously was a move to prevent reinforcement of the enemy's depleted air strength at the larger base.

Only a moderate amount of anti-aircraft fire was encountered by the American night raiders. Only a single Jap plane managed to get into the air, but it failed to intercept the Yanks.

Bomb Hollandia Again The official communique also announced that air patrols bombed smoldering Hollandia during the night, lighting new fires and "probably" blowing up an ammunition dump.

Other air action resulted in destruction of and damaging of three Japanese ships, and the battering of 19 enemy barges.

Long-range fighters sank an oil-laden tanker off Semaoe Island in the Netherlands East Indies, and kindled fires among shore installations. Off Wewak, New Guinea, two direct hits left a 7,000-ton Jap cargo vessel wreathed in flames, while coastal planes destroyed another unclassified enemy vessel.

U. S. Torpedo and dive bombers attacked Japanese positions in the Empress Augusta Bay area of Bougainville, in the Solomons. Twin-engined Mitchells poured 36 tons of bombs on the enemy's Kara and Kahili airdromes, while other Mitchells caused fires and explosion at Koepang and Lautem on Timor Island.

Halt Drafting Of 'Essential' Men Over 26 Years Old

(BULLETIN)

NEW YORK, April 8.—(INS)—Drafting of all men over 26 making a "contribution to essential agricultural war production or war supporting activities" was ordered halted today.

The move was announced by New York City selective service headquarters after receipt of a telegram from Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the nation's draft chief. Col. Arthur W. McDermott, local selective service director, ordered the instructions sent to the city's 280 draft boards.

REPORT DISORDERS OCCUR IN BERLIN

dent, Ossian Goulding, sums these failures up under these six headings:

Failures Cited "Breakdown on fire-fighting services. Failure of relief organizations to provide clothing and food for the bombed out. Looting and the existence of an underground population without papers or control. The inadequacy of the medical service. Grave shortcomings of the fire watching system. The overstraining of the Berlin transport organization."

"In addition there have been several reports recently of disorders, including panic shooting of bombed Berlin civilians by SS men. A Daily Express correspondent quotes a receipt address by Goebbels to his party chiefs in Berlin whom he told: 'We are fighting with our backs to the wall.'"

German Press Extracts "Extracts from the German press bear out Goebbels' anxiety. William Beer, in Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, states: 'Everything that the human imagination could expect in the way of crises and reverses has been fulfilled by Germany in recent months. The Gauleiter of Hanover said: "It is not a National Socialist in times of crisis. Therefore we must increase the efficiency of the political shock troops." And at the same meeting at which these words were spoken, Nazi Labor Leader Dr. Ley said: "There is no way back, we have burned out boats."

"A Belgian paper published in Berlin, L'Effort Vaion, states that all home leave for foreign workers in Germany has been temporarily suspended. The paper adds: 'The German authorities would not have suspended leave had there not been some other reason besides the numerous cases of men on leave failing to return to work.'"

A German language BBC broadcast pointed out that Goebbels' appointment proves that "the ministry of the interior has not shown sufficient energy in Berlin" and said "the new appointment means a considerable strengthening of Goebbels' position as against that of (Heinrich) Himmler."

Triplets Perplex Officers In Army

CHICAGO, April 8.—(INS).—The 19-year-old Gieritz triplets, now in the same army outfit, are confusing their top sergeant and other officers with "identification troubles."

The brothers were drafted and sent to separate camps in July, 1943. Gieritz was sent to Gulfport, Miss. Albert to Camp Hulen, Texas, and Herbert to Camp Stewart, Ga.

Then came the army ruling that twins and triplets could serve in the same outfit if they wished and Albert and Gilbert followed Herbert to Farmingdale, N. Y., where he had been transferred.

Their mother, Mrs. Herman A. Gieritz, laughed "I'm sorry for their top sergeant," she said. "The boys look so much alike even I have trouble telling them apart."

The triplets' parents operate a farm in DuPage county, near Chicago.

Women in the 18 groups in the county are preparing exhibits and short talks will be given by representative farm women on remodeling clothing, repairing spring filled cushions, wise use of leftovers, and other home economics.

"Conservation to help bring victory" will be the theme of the meeting, since the home maker's job in the war effort is closely concerned with conservation, Miss Simpson says.

EASTER

COMETH now in the dark hour of war the world over Easter. It is as it was in the beginning. It was dark when Mary Magdalene saw the stone taken away from the sepulcher, and dark indeed had it been since the crucifixion. But those of stout heart and bright faith stood through the dark. They were ready when Mary Magdalene said the Lord had been taken away out of the sepulcher. For the prophet had so foretold.

And so it is and ever shall be. It is in the nature of the firmament and the waters and the air and all things living. They have, as they were given in the beginning, the light that is called day and the darkness that is called night.

But in the spirit of man, in the greatness of his faith, the day grows long as the joyous festival of Easter is celebrated, and the darkness withers in the same measure, for the total is constant.

On Easter, men of all faiths take up themselves from the inner cleansing of the Lenten season and lift their faces to the light. In the world about them it is so today more than common. For the princes of evil have ridden out from their benighted countries, whence they have scourged the truth, to enfold all the world in night as a habit.

But defending the day and the right, and man at the full stature of his enlightenment, are the men of God. By way of the firmament and the waters and the air, the fervor of their righteousness speeds them to stay the enemies of God, to smite them down and to entomb them in their own wickedness.

This Easter, as men of good will the world over lift their faces to the light that follows the darkness, it is meet and dutiful to gird also more greatly for the trials of earth and the hastening toward the day of which it is writ there shall be peace then and evermore.

OUTSMARTING JAPS

It may be a question of hours until United States fighters will be pounding at Truk. The Japanese anticipate such an attack, but it is almost certain that they will not be attacked in the manner they expect.

One of the factors in the war in the Pacific which has helped the Allies is inability of the Japanese to predict in advance how to defend a position or an outpost. Where they expect an all-out attack it isn't made, and when they do not expect a frontal assault, they are compelled to meet one.

This shifting of strategy on the part of the Americans has provoked the Japanese. They are aptists of the first order. They do everything by rule or precedent. When the Americans by-pass an outpost, it upsets the defenders and they flounder helplessly.

American fighters may land near Truk and pound it day and night without making the frontal attack the Japs expect. Therefore it could be weeks after the first landing before Truk is entirely cleared out.

THEIR TITLES ENOUGH

General Marshall finally has taken a hand in the agitation for new and higher rank for the Army and Navy chiefs of staff to put them on an equality with their British counterparts for protocol purposes.

Bills to bring about such equality are now pending in Congress. Under their provisions General Marshall, Army chief of staff, and General Arnold, commanding general of the Army Air Forces, would receive the title of General of the Armies, and Admiral King, commander in chief of the United States Fleet and chief of naval operations, and Admiral Leahy, chief of staff to President Roosevelt, would receive the title of Admiral of the Navy.

General Marshall now has made the specific request that such legislation be shelved, at least until after the war.

The Army chief of staff is said to feel that the change of rank proposed would entail a reshuffling of general officers all down the line—and that inasmuch as he is known already throughout the world as the senior officer of the United States Army, any such title as General of the Armies would be unnecessary. Admiral King, likewise, is reported not at all interested in gathering a new title. General Arnold and Admiral Leahy may be presumed to hold similar views.

The whole thing is reminiscent of the story of the Irish chieftain, Shane O'Neill, who is reported to have spurned Queen Elizabeth's offer to make him Earl of Tyrone—in return for his homage—with the words: "Madame, the O'Neill is title enough for me."

General and Admiral are title enough for the heads of the American Army, Navy and Air Forces. In protocol or otherwise they haven't had to take a back seat yet, nor are they likely to.

WHEN TAXES OUTFRIN INCOMES

Many stockholders in corporations—and the number of such persons has vastly increased in recent years—must have noticed with interest not only the recent listing of salaries paid to the principal officials, but the accompanying computations of how much, or rather how little, they had left after paying Federal income taxes.

In numerous instances the contrast between gross and net income of those drawing what is commonly regarded as high compensation is startling. It would have been even more striking if state income taxes, where applicable, had been included.

This calculation has just been made in the case of a New York industrialist whose 1943 income of $427,000 from all sources is found to be less than his total income taxes. It is no exaggeration to say that he would have been better off if he had received no salary at all.

Even though the public may not be particularly concerned over such results of tax rates carried to extremes, especially when the victims have capital resources and can dig into their principal if necessary, confiscation of entire incomes is not an American principle. If long continued, it would dry up the sources of incomes and thus defeat its purpose.

For this anomalous condition, the perversion of the original Ruml pay-as-you-go plan into a device for double taxation is largely to blame. Payment of that extra, inexcusable 25 per cent income tax will be completed next year, but the need will still remain for a general readjustment of the rates in the interest of justice and also, in the long run, of the Treasury's need for more revenue.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Willkie Stopped

NEW YORK, April 8.—It seems a shame to raise even a slight suspicion of doubt to dampen the pleasure of those forces within the Republican Party celebrating the defeat of Wendell Willkie in the Wisconsin Primary. Leaders of the stop-Willkie movement can congratulate themselves. Whether by their effort by his own, Willkie has been stopped all right.

He staked everything on the outcome in Wisconsin. He repeatedly told his audiences that the nation was watching what he said was one of the most important elections in many years. How he could continue to campaign for the presidential nomination in the face of Tuesday's repudiation was difficult to see.

What effect the outcome in Wisconsin may have on the election in November is another matter. Willkie, in his strenuous 13-day tour of the state, was appealing to the independent and the labor vote. He was appealing to the independent to help him make the Republican Party an effective political instrument worthy of support.

Appeal Unheeded

The results in Wisconsin show that this appeal went unheeded. Regular Republicans came out and voted for regular candidates—Dewey, Stassen and MacArthur. At the same time, they were voting against Willkie.

It is a revealing sidelight that three delegates running on the designation "against Willkie"—that and nothing more—each received a sizeable vote. They were not elected, but enough people voted solely against Willkie to add up to a respectable total.

The vote in the Democratic Primary, while much smaller than the Republican, was larger than had been expected, especially in certain districts. The Democrats had no contest, of course, since FDR was their only presidential candidate. Apparently the labor and independent vote was recorded at all, it was in the Democratic column.

I think Willkie was right when he said in Wisconsin that to win in the fall, the Republican Party must attract at least a portion of the independent vote. That is the thought which should sober the stop-Willkie men who are gloating over Tuesday's returns.

The results in Wisconsin will tend to confirm the belief—especially in the light of Willkie's appeal—that the GOP is the party of extreme conservatives. The largest vote in the Republican Primary was cast for Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman, running as a delegate-at-large pledged to Dewey.

Much Active Work

A preliminary survey of the returns indicates, however, that the combined vote for Willkie and Stassen was perhaps greater than the total vote cast for the Dewey delegates. Both Stassen and Willkie have been strong for international cooperation. The Republicans may claim that in rejecting Willkie, the voters of Wisconsin did not repudiate a program of international collaboration.

In the last few days of the campaign, a great deal of work was done to offset Willkie's tour in Wisconsin. Although presumably no national organization was working for Dewey and he had specifically requested withdrawal of his delegates, at the last minute considerable money was spent for his candidacy.

Just before the election, 220,000 Dewey pamphlets were sent out by mail and time was taken on the radio. It would be interesting to know how this was financed.

Willkie, it is now obvious, was working against the historical tradition of the Republican Party. The GOP has always been allergic to strong personal leadership. Teddy Roosevelt was an exception to the rule.

Willkie is today more true than even Governor Dewey appears to be proof against any assault. Having strength, he will attract more strength.

GENERAL ETIQUETTE QUESTIONS

These are some general questions on etiquette of which my friends and I are uncertain. Can you enlighten us on these subjects:

(1) When a woman is with a man in a restaurant what is the ordering procedure? Does she order or does he?

(2) Who draws out her chair when she arrives at and leaves the table?

(3) What about entering and leaving a vehicle—street car, taxi, cab, etc? Who goes first?

(4) In these cases does it make any difference whether the man is a civilian or an officer in the service?—Peggie.

Answer: (1) Usually, she makes her wishes known to him (at his request) and he gives her order to the waiter. Although she may give her order direct to the waiter. It really does not make much difference.

(2) The waiter, preferably, draws out her chair but if he is not present at the time, her escort should do so.

(3) On entering a vehicle, the man should stand aside and assist his woman companion in before he enters. When leaving he should get out first from any vehicle, so that he may assist her.

(4) As this is America and not Naziland, the Army does not take precedence over civilians. Their courtesies toward women are just as binding as they were before entering the service. Their uniforms give them no excuse for impoliteness. Nor would they wish them to.

Question: I have been married for a year and am just now going to announce it. How should this be done? If I send out engraved announcements, must I mention the date of the wedding? Annabelle.

Answer: You need send out no engraved announcements at all, if you choose not to do so. You may tell your friends who will tell their friends. Thus the news will travel fast and far. If you do send out announcements, they should be engraved in the usual way and the date must be mentioned.

The Willkie Withdrawal

WASHINGTON, April 8.—AFTER the Wisconsin result, Mr. Willkie's withdrawal was the sensible thing for him to do. For the sake of his ultimate reputation, however, it is a pity he could not have quit in better temper and a more sportsmanlike way. Certainly, his attempt to read into the returns reasons that did not exist, along with the apparently inaccurate statement upon which he based his interpretation, will somewhat diminish sympathy for this honest, able, sincere and courageous man.

IT IS kinder to think that Mr. Willkie's attempt to make it seem that his Wisconsin defeat was because of the drift of his party toward isolationism was due to a mistake and not to a deliberate desire to damage the chances of Governor Dewey whose nomination never was assured. Yet, the facts now appear assured. Yet, the facts now appear assured. Yet, the facts now appear assured.

For example, he gave as one of his reasons for withdrawing that the delegate who led in the voting was formerly active in the America First Committee and this, he argued, showed that the party is "opposed to the beliefs which I entertained."

Pays Tribute To Heroism Of Men Of Bataan

Article Is Written By One Of Officers Who Fought There,
On Anniversary

Editor's Note: The following article was written for the second anniversary of the fall of Bataan by Col. Warren J. Clear, who fought there with heroic Americans and Filipinos against overwhelmingly superior Japanese forces. Clear was one of the few American army officers to escape capture by the enemy.

By COL. WARREN J. CLEAR

(Written Exclusively for I.N.S.)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 8.—Bataan men gave their lives for things they themselves could never hope to have again in order that we might continue to enjoy them.

Others are behind barbed wire of prison camps, their spirits still unbroken by the indignities and cruelties inflicted on them by a merciless enemy.

The only thing that could break their fighting hearts would be to feel that they were forgotten.

We must not let either distress of war or the daily tasks of life corrode our interest in their welfare. We must stand by them as they stood by their guns.

The heroism of those men on Bataan cannot be matched. Their indescribable suffering cannot be repaid. But their loyalty can and must be emulated by those for whom they sacrificed themselves.

They devoted themselves to duty where there was no hope. Our devotion to the duty we have toward those who have survived the torture, famine and disease of Bataan could not be less.

The Japanese taken prisoner of war is abandoned by his people and has lost his civil rights. We cannot follow. Our missing in action will not be missing in our thoughts and plans. The men of Bataan suffered and died with that belief.

New York State Halts Induction Of Men Over 26

ALBANY, N. Y., April 8.—(INS)—Brig. Gen. Ames T. Brown, state director of Selective Service, today ordered postponement of the induction of all New York registrants over 26 who were to have entered the armed forces early next week. The stay is effective pending review of the occupational essentiality of the men.

Columbus was the discoverer of the Virgin Islands and he gave them that name because he was puzzled by their number and named them after "the eleven thousand virgins of St. Ursula."

State Police Get Fugitive After Mountain Chase

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., April 8.—State police today captured Sehon Stevenson Chinn, Huntingdon, W. Va., fugitive from the Federal Bureau of Investigation and postal authorities, after an eight-mile foot chase over fields and through woods in Fayette county.

Chinn, for whom a $200 reward had been posted, was said to have jumped a $5,000 bail bond at Huntingdon, where he had been arrested on charges of looting a mail box and forging a $25 check.

State police had been called to investigate a report that someone was shooting deer out of season. During the chase which followed, Chinn fell down a 20-foot cliff.

Officers said they found a "small arsenal"—amounting to eight or 10 guns—in Chinn's room and between 20 and 30 stolen articles. Also found were a half-dozen notices from his draft board, state police said.

Boom Launched For Revercomb As Keynote

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(INS)—A boom was launched today by a group of senators to have Sen. Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia deliver the keynote speech at the Republican national convention.

Revercomb, who scored a startling upset political victory in 1942, is being backed by a strong group. He is being urged as a representative of a border state, a war veteran and as typical of the Republicans who are helping the party in its comeback.

Some of his backers say that because he entered the Senate after the war broke out, his choice would offend neither the so-called nationalists nor internationalists in the party.

The name of Gov. Earl Warren of California, who is regarded as a likely choice for vice president, also is being advanced for the keynote position.

Others reported in congressional circles as being under serious consideration include Rep. Clare Boothe Luce of Connecticut, Sens. Vandenberg of Michigan, Taft of Ohio, Brewster of Maine, President Eric Johnston of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Reps. Dirksen of Illinois and Halleck of Indiana.

FISHERMAN LOST

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 8.—(INS)—The backwaters of Ventnor were dragged today by Coast Guardsmen in a search for the body of a 76-year-old man who disappeared from his rowboat while fishing.

Walter Thomas, a Ventnor fireman, started out in the boat yesterday and failed to return. The empty craft was found later.

It has been suggested that in these days of shortages it is a good idea to return to the practice of former days and buy short lengths of unbleached muslin and hem our sheets and pillowcases at home. Muslin comes in 63-inch or 90-inch widths, and 45-inch width for pillowcases.

Pre-Easter Contest To End On Sunday

Eight-Weeks Campaign To Be Formally Concluded On Easter Sunday

Tomorrow—Easter Sunday, will be the last of the "Victory" 8-weeks Pre-Easter increase campaign that is being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association, and good progress and many points have been accumulated to date which will doubtless be climaxed by the attendances of the participating Sunday schools tomorrow, Easter.

Evangelism has been stimulated. Sunday school and church attendances have been increased, and Bible study has been encouraged, as these are the four fundamental goals of the campaign. With the large number of young men and women with the armed services of the country, it has taken added effort to make progress this year. However, the figures show that the competing Sunday schools of Lawrence county have done remarkably well in keeping the attendance figures higher than they were last year.

There are four New Castle groups, and four districts groups outside of New Castle, making a total of eight Sunday school awards to be made and one church attendance award. These awards will be presented at the evening session of the annual Lawrence County Sabbath School Association convention which will be held in New Castle, Thursday, June 8.

Some of the Sunday schools have such a large lead that it will be practically impossible to make a change in their particular group. Other Sunday schools in the various groups are practically tied with but very little difference in the percentage standings. In such cases the Easter attendance will decide the winners.

One New Castle minister made the remark: "Just before Easter is a splendid time to stimulate attendance, and if the right effort is put forth, a good percentage will remain throughout the entire year."

states and proposes to take them over.

We engaged in much flowery eloquence over the plight of the Poles and how we proposed to see them returned to their pre-1939 status as a sovereign nation. We then timidly hinted as much to Russia when the border question came up, and we were told in emphatic tones to stay out of it and mind our own business. We now shrug the question aside and give in to Russia.

Finland has been our friend when all other European nations have scorned us and have refused to pay their debts to us. Now, we warn Finland to get out of the war against Russia. So far, even this little nation, with a population smaller than that of New York City, has paid no attention to us.

Mr. Roosevelt has promised Russia a third of the Italian fleet or its equivalent. Mr. Churchill has decidedly different opinions and it now appears that Russia will get the "equivalent" or a number of American ships. This at a moment when we are preparing to go into the greatest naval war of all time, against Japan, Russia and Japan, incidentally, are at peace.

Everything we are giving in to Russia, Stalin shows not the slightest inclination to collaborate with us on international problems. He has his own policy, the obvious aim of which is to build a strong and dominating Russia, and we only hear of his decisions after he sends them, in the form of an order or ultimatum, to the nation affected. China is even becoming restless under the barrage of rosy promises and patronizing pats on the back that we have given her. We can be none too sure of where we stand in that quarter, although the Chinese have given every evidence of trying to be our friends.

Nor have we succeeded in our own hemisphere. Strong jealousies have been created in South America, with the result that Argentina is trying to build up her own sphere of influence, to offset the patronizing era of sweetness and light that we have tried to buy with American dollars.

Our trouble has been that instead of looking at world problems realistically, seeking a solution along practical lines, we have been more concerned with political missionary work, with trying to make people like us. We have sought this by the expenditure of money, not by applying intelligence to the problems at hand. The result is that we are looked upon as the "fat uncle" of every rag-tag tribe of double-dealing brigands around the equator, and as fair game by hypocritical "neutrals" in every clime. Instead of financing solutions of world problems, we actually are financing countless new ones beyond our power of solution and beyond the desire of those involved to even listen to our views.

All this is called the administration's "foreign policy."

skimming water insects, cutting across the ripples, racing as if their lives depended on moving gaily and swiftly.

This was the way the lake beside Charlottenburg looked when I watched it enviously, a tourist in a sight-seeing bus. Instead of insects, however, I saw German boys and girls diving and swimming and frolicking in the water.

The lake was—I hate the word but it suits—the lake was "alive" with healthy, happy German youth, who doled in canoes. They roared in boats. They propelled bicycle rafts and contraptions that looked like water ferries wheels. They proved their strength and toughness by feats that would have appalled young America as it was then. Likewise, they proved the foresight of their own government.

"On this very August afternoon, back home," I thought, "hundreds of thousands of American girls and boys are riding in automobiles, sitting in the movies, watching baseball games, getting lazy and soft-muscled. What will happen to them if ever again they need to fight these terrifying youngsters? What is wrong with us that we so stupidly fail to look after our own?"

Strategic Bases Should Be Kept By United States

CHICAGO, April 8.—(INS)—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio headed today for the Pacific coast, where he will carry his aspirations for the Republican presidential nomination to party members in California, Oregon and Washington.

Chimneying a swing that took him to the southwest, the mountain states and the midwest, the Ohio governor charged in Chicago last night that America's tragic defeat at Pearl Harbor was due in a large measure to the failure of President Roosevelt's administration to take the people into its confidence.

Speaking before the Union League Club, he declared:

"We were kept in the dark as to the dangers confronting us. This administration either knew or should have known of the danger in the Pacific and should have taken necessary action."

"If that had been done what happened at Pearl Harbor never could have happened. It was not enough for Washington to know the facts, the people should have known. If they had been advised, congress would have acted swiftly to prevent the disaster."

Would Retain Bases

In an earlier address Gov. Bricker called for retention by the United States of strategic bases throughout the world to insure the future protection of the country against aggression.

"The fact that the cost of constructing these bases and installing them might have been borne primarily by any one of the Allied nations is of course, a factor, but not necessarily the sole one," he said. "The immediate proximity of any base to any nation should not in and of itself be controlling."

"This does not mean that the United States is abandoning its traditional non-imperialistic policy. We harbor no territorial ambitions. These strategic bases, farflung though they may appear by our customary measures of distance, actually will be only hours away in terms of future air speeds. They are our sentry posts in a fast moving world."

Shouldn't Be Given Away

"Our gallant soldiers are not fighting their way inch by inch, foot by foot, against the Japs to win the Pacific Islands only to have our leaders give them all away to a grandiose gesture at some future conference table. The status of some of these bases necessarily will be the subject of diplomatic discussions but we must not be outsmarted around a trading table."

He also pleaded for the government to be taken "out of the hands of bureaucrats and put back into the hands of the elected representatives of the government" to the end that confusion existing in Washington may be abolished.

Commenting on the withdrawal of Wendell L. Willkie from the G. O. P. presidential nomination race, he expressed confidence that the party's 1940 candidate would not be "bitter because he has so bitterly opposed the New Deal."

He added that Willkie's withdrawal would have no effect on his own campaign plans.

Health Talks

PNEUMONIA

Pneumonia has always been one of our most prevalent and most serious diseases.

It has killed thousands every year. Those who recover usually lose a couple of months from work.

Lately with better methods of treatment a good many lives have been saved.

With the new medicine perhaps 25,000 lives have been saved every year in this country.

One large organization has compared the death rates of its members before the new treatment 20 out of 100 cases of pneumonia died. With the new drugs 4 out of 100 died.

In the year 1935 the average duration of sickness was 28 days. In 1941 the average was 27 days. It is calculated that in U. S. A., over a million working days have been saved each year with the sulpha drugs.

Later they used the car in fleeing from a grocery store when screams of the proprietor's wife frightened them off empty-handed.

The wife, Marjorie, 22, died this morning in Beeson hospital.

Allies Sought To Prevent Giraud From Resigning

Both United States And Great Britain Took Action In Situation

By LEON PEARSON
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 8.—It was revealed authoritatively today that both the United States and British governments took action to prevent Gen. Henri Giraud from resigning as commander-in-chief of the French forces.

This was believed in diplomatic circles to mean that there is strong disapproval of the move by Gen. Charles De Gaulle to take over the supreme military command.

The appeal to Giraud to reconsider his resignation was apparently effective. Officials were encouraged by last night's report from Algiers that he has not resigned.

The preference for Giraud was strongly expressed last July when he was invited to Washington and was received by President Roosevelt and War Department officials. At that time a pledge was given to arm and equip 400,000 French troops under his command.

And since this pledge was so clearly made to Giraud—shortly after De Gaulle's intended Washington visit was cancelled—the question was raised as to whether the War Department and the White House would shift this support to De Gaulle.

The issue is both personal and international. There remains the persistent conflict between the two men and the unwillingness of Giraud to accept as his superior the man who was his subordinate in the first World War, and whom he constantly refers to as "Col. De Gaulle."

But still more important is the international political issue, on which President Roosevelt made his position clear yesterday. He insisted that no one outside France knows how the people of France feel, or who they would wish for a leader if they were free to speak.

Need Concessions On Postwar Plans About Aviation

LONDON, April 8.—(INS)—Lord Beaverbrook, Lord Privy Seal and government representative on aviation matters, admitted today that Great Britain had to make a number of concessions to the United States in preliminary discussions leading to an international conference of Allied powers on postwar aviation problems.

United States Undersecretary of State Adolph A. Berle, Jr., added that "concessions will have to be made by both sides." In the next preliminary meeting, representative of the Soviet Union will talk with the United States group, Berle announced.

"The Soviet-American talks will not preclude the Russians and the British from talking among themselves," Berle said. "I hope they do so."

The American undersecretary expressed hope that the proposed international conference will be held this year.

"I am by no means in agreement with Lord Beaverbrook that the concessions are as great as he emphasizes," Berle said.

He disclosed also that "as we see it, Germany and Japan ought not to be allowed to enter the international aviation picture" in the future. Berle said he did not speak for the British government, but felt that they looked at the question the same way.

The 1944 goal of the pulpwood industry is 14 million cords, with which the paper boxes for munitions, food and medical supplies for the war fronts will be made.

New Pro Grid Loop Wealthy

Circuit May Be Bigger, Better Than National; Competition Spread To Coast

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 7.—The luckiest of all in the world, we think, are those gentlemen of considerable wealth and vision who recently opened meetings in Pittsburgh to shape up a new professional football league. You may not know it now, but these boys are forming what may turn out to be the most powerful sports organization created in the last four decades.

The new gridiron league may not have the drop on the national professional football league but it indicates that something is being done to make the old loop richer and more appealing to the public. It will be because more foresight is going into the formation of the second football league, more enthusiasm and more money.

The new league is unlike the national loop, even though it is not yet a league. It is an idea, a loose group without formally-elected officers, a constitution or by-laws, but already it shows a difference of creation, and a new approach to sports organization.

League Is Different
The baby league is different from the old loop in that it has a great deal of cash behind it, or seems to have. The newly-formed loop will be starting out in the same stages of organization as the national league achieved only after many years of struggle.

Another point is that the new loop is going to be much more national than the National League.

"Franchises" already have been granted in the new loop to eight cities—New York, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Seattle and Pittsburgh. The league will put the new loop farther west than its predecessor, since the National League extends only as far west as its Green Bay, Detroit and Chicago franchises permit. But the forming powers of the new league are not stopping here; they plan to further strengthen the western citadel of pro football with proposed franchises in Los Angeles and San Francisco, in addition to Akron, Detroit, Chicago and Boston.

A hold on the west means a hold on the moneybags; west is where the fans are in huge numbers and west is where major league pro football is not.

Giving the fans a real east-west pro football tournament, something they never have had, is to invite popularity. Americans love civil strife, especially when it gives them a chance to fight or enthuse for their native sections.

Tom Warren Twirls Shutout For Dodgers

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y., April 8.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers face off against the Boston Red Sox at Ebbets Field today after finding a great deal of consolation in the fact that at least one promising pitcher was uncovered at Bear Mountain.

The shining star of the Dodgers' mound hopes is Tommy Warren, Cherokee veteran of World War II. Tommy limited the Montreal Royals to three hits in yesterday's exhibition game, working five innings as the Dodgers swept to an easy 7 to 0 seven-inning triumph.

Youth, 17, Reports To Phils Monday

PITTSBURGH, April 8.—(INS)—Wilson George, 17-year-old high school senior, announced today that he will leave Monday to report to the Philadelphia National League baseball team at Wilmington, Del., to begin training.

Sports Cut and Dried

Lagging by two games, the Cleveland Barons hope to better their position in the American Hockey league playoff series when they face Buffalo's Bisons tonight in Buffalo. Buffalo grabbed the first two of the best out of seven series. Joe Penzelik, former Duquesne university cage star, has married his college sweetheart, Reida Armstrong, in Homestead. The athlete is in the navy.

Pittsburgh's Charles Burley held the California middleweight crown following his easy victory over Jack Chase of Denver. The Pittsburgher won in the ninth. The New York Yankees suffered another major blow today when they were informed that Johnny Lindell, hard hitting outfielder, has been accepted by the navy. He'll be called anytime from 21 to 90 days. Bill Nicholson, who threatens to remain on his farm instead of playing with the Chicago Cubs, reportedly wants $17,500.

Baseball makes its debut in the far west today with the opening of the Pacific Coast league. Seattle has been selected as the pre-season favorite. This marks the 42nd season for the circuit. Ray Post, a right-hander, has joined the Cleveland Indians' spring training camp. He is the 14th twirler added to the staff. New Yorkers have selected the Washington Senators and Cardinals as the 1944 pennant winners.

Paumonok 'Cap Highlights Card

Apache, Devil Diver Are Choices; New Yorkers Expected To Snap '43 Mark

NEW YORK, April 8.—(INS)—The 1944 metropolitan racing season and a new tax on horses begins concurrently today at Jamaica, where 14 thoroughbreds are entered in the featured Paumonok handicap.

Officials at the track are expecting a larger opening day crowd than was seen in 1943, but a smaller total bet. The crowd at last year's curtain-raiser was 26,426 and the handle was $1,308,919. Anticipation of lighter wagering was based on the fact that the fields might be small due to the difficulty of getting horses into shape for early-season running.

Apache, Devil Diver Favored
Apache, Belair stud star and Greentree stable's Devil Diver, both carrying 130 pounds, are top choices to take the Paumonok. Other tough horses in the tradition-frosted Paumonok are Mettlesome, Flak, Eurasia, Bossy, Cassis and Alex Barth, with Bill Sickle, Swimmie, Brownie, Eye for Eye, Go-Gino and Daraway rounding out the field. The opening of the current season also will mark the levying of the compensation use tax, which has been hanging fire since 1934. This is a one per cent tax on all horses which race on tracks within the city limits of New York, with the percentage based on the animal's purchase claiming price.

The Cubs move to Louisville, Ky., this afternoon for a game with the Cincinnati Reds.

Apprentice Rider Bobby Permane Draws Attention; Boots Home Five Winners Friday

CORAL GABLES, Fla., April 8.—(INS)—The $10,000 Tropical Handicap and apprentice rider Bobby Permane held the attention of track fans today as the Tropical Park meeting drew to a close.

Only six horses were entered in the mile and an eighth feature for 3 year olds with the unpredictable Marriage from Coward and Dupuy's stable favored to take the winner's share.

Permane, the other interest of the fans, held their attention by reason of his five victories in yesterday's races. Thursday he also had five winners.

Permane On Equinox
The apprentice jockey warmed up to his feat by coming home fourth in the second race and second in the third race. Then in the fourth he won with Key Largo which paid $3.90, repeating in the next four events with Oaking at $5.50, Swift Marine at $4.60, Yank Bomber at $7.10 and Rest Awhile at $4.00.

Permane is scheduled to ride Equinox, a 4 to 1 shot, in the Tropical handicap today. Equinox will carry 103 pounds, the lightest weight of any of the six entries.

Short and Sweet

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Baseball will make a tremendous contribution in money to the various war agencies this season, and the Brooklyn Dodgers are going to start the ball-rolling next Thursday in a game for the Blue Cross at Ebbets Field. . . . It will be only an exhibition with the Philadelphia Phillies, but the park probably will be packed. . . . The program will include: . . .

A parade into the park by service men, Red Cross units, the Dodgers' wash tub symphony, Army and Coast Guard bands, and a 220-MM. cannon captured in North Africa and called "Dirty Girlie from Bizerte." . . . Inside the park there will be a 30-minute entertainment program featuring songs by Frank Sinatra, and ticket booths will be manned by stage and radio celebrities.

And that's not all. . . . Fat Fred Fitzsimmons, who used to be a Dodger himself and now manager of the Phillies, will be the starting pitcher for his club against Whitlow Wyatt, ace of the Dodgers.

Durocher at Second
On top of that, Leo Durocher, the elderly manager of the Dodgers, will play second base, and Dixie Walker, the outfielder, will be at third. . . . That should be worth the price of admission in itself even if the money wasn't going to the Red Cross. . . . Yet, Walker may be a fixture at third this season for the simple reason that the Dodgers haven't got anybody any better for the position nor anybody as good for that matter, according to training camp revelations.

Making sure to keep the Dodger-Giant feud going, Durocher has started making cracks about some of the spavined Giants. . . . But look who's talking!

There isn't a horse-player alive and with the price of a lead pencil who hasn't sat himself down in the last few hours and figured out what a parlay on Bobby Permane Thursday and Friday would have paid. . . . He has won 13 races in the last three days at Tropical Park and of them five came in a row from the fourth race on yesterday. . . . He has booted home 45 winners at Tropical Park.

Announcement that Outfielder Bill Nicholson is toying with the idea of returning to his farm instead of staying with the Chicago Cubs means that if he goes the National league will lose its stand-out slugger. He belted 28 homers last season.

Over Million Trout Stocked In State

Fish Commissioner French Says Fish Plentiful; Change Of Species Likely

In spite of a serious shortage of trucks necessary for hauling purposes, over 1,000,000 legal sized trout have been placed in Pennsylvania streams this year, Fish Commissioner Charles A. French announced today.

The announcement comes seven days before the start of the trout season and French asserts that anglers out on April 15 will find plenty of fish but in many cases there may be a change of species in favorite streams.

Double Up Loads
"Our restricted transportation facilities meant a doubling up of loads," declared the fish commissioner, "as a result we had to substitute some species and fishermen accustomed to finding brown trout in their favorite stream may come up with rainbow—and vice versa."

French concluded by stating that this is a war measure and changes in classification of streams are not expected.

Yankees Whale Athletics, 13 To 5

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 8.—(INS)—The Athletics, even seven in their exhibition series with the Yankees, will meet the world champs in a third and final game today.

The Yanks blasted three of Connie Mack's hurlers for 17 hits in defeating the Quaker City club, 13-5, yesterday. Connie will probably send first string pitchers against the Yanks in an effort to garner the A's seventh exhibition victory.

YANKS SMILE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 8.—(INS)—The New York Yankees had a reason for broad grins today after taking over the Philadelphia Athletics, 13 to 5, in yesterday's exhibition contest. The victory snapped a two-game Yankee losing streak and an Athletics six-game winning skein.

CONSISTENT FELLOW
Mel Hein hasn't missed playing a pro game in 13 seasons.

Fritz Zivic Dons Khaki Wednesday
PITTSBURGH, April 8.—(INS)—Fritz Zivic, former welterweight champion of the world, will leave for the army next Wednesday.

He will be honored at a farewell party by the Dapper Dan Club of Pittsburgh the night before he is inducted into the service.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

While fish will be the principal topic when the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association meets Tuesday night in Neshaunock Hall, V. F. W. here, important information regarding vermin control will be given and acted upon according to Association Secretary H. N. Drio. It is probable that the crowd will be the largest in a year due to the successful membership campaign. Both Game Protector Frank Coen and Fish Warden Clinton White will be present to answer any questions pertaining to the affairs over which they have jurisdiction.

New York's richest racing season and probably one that will establish an all-time record for betting and gate receipts, opened this afternoon at Jamaica. . . . There are still many good horses to come here from other tracks and a number of jockeys, but nothing will stop the customers. . . . not even a field of billy goats, so long as they will run and the mutual windows are in operation.

On top of that, Leo Durocher, the elderly manager of the Dodgers, will play second base, and Dixie Walker, the outfielder, will be at third. . . . That should be worth the price of admission in itself even if the money wasn't going to the Red Cross. . . . ## New York Women Prepare For Variety Of Easter Weather

Blizzard Of Mid-Week Brings Skepticism On Easter Parade Arrangements

By JANE COCHRAN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 8.—Bright-hued eggs in the Easter bunny's basket have a rival this Sunday—not even their most fanciful shades can outdo the colors that will promenade in the Easter parade.

The government asked that there be no concentration this spring on any one color, so that there might not be a run on any one dye shade. Designers and clothes-buying women have gone the government one better on its request.

The traditional navy and white will be present—but it will be rivaled by every shade from red to chartreuse to violet to green, or combination of any two or more.

Print Dresses And Suits
Print dresses and suits, ranging from tiny figured patterns to large splashy ones, will be seen more often this Easter than in past years, and the toppers are new, as well. These short coats, ranging from waistline to almost full length, come in luscious shades as well as navy, black and neutral shades.

Soft suits will be worn beneath many of these toppers in New York where women—after Wednesday's blizzard—are prepared for any kind of weather. The tailored suits have almost entirely disappeared in favor of the feminine dressmaker type. New types this season will be the bolero suit, slim skirts with free hanging, short jackets, and the suits with capes in place of jackets. Hats are pretty and feminine, with three types in the lead—the half-hat or side width model, the bonnet and the forward tilted hat.

New shoes will depend on a woman's saving ability or her ingenuity. If coupons are on hand, new shoes can be purchased in shades of tan, brown and black, with ease. Colored shoes and ones in navy tones will be scarce in the Easter parade.

Known underground crude oil reserves in the U. S. A. are 20 billion barrels, present annual consumption is 1 1/2 billion barrels.

Volant Airman Blasts Nazi Out Of Sky In Europe

AN EIGHTH AAF FIGHTER STATION, England—Lt. Robert L. Pherson, 25-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pherson, Volant, Pa., now flying a Thunderbolt fighter over Europe literally blasted a Nazi fighter out of the skies the other day.

Already credited with damage to an enemy fighter in a dog-fight over Lingen, Germany, Lt. Pherson attacked his latest Nazi at 20,000 feet above the vicinity of Vechta.

"We were escorting the rear of a box of B-24's when I saw this ME 109 getting ready to make a pass at two bombers which were straggling behind the main group," Lt. Pherson reported.

"The enemy was ahead and to the left of me and I half-rolled into position, closing quickly. I opened fire from about 200 yards, instantly observing strikes on the wings and cockpit. He went into a steep spiral with me right behind, still firing. Pieces of his aircraft began flying away as the shots pelted in splashing flame over the ship."

He then straightened out and another burst of my guns tore his canopy off. Then he dove straight down toward the ground, smoking badly and with flames appearing along the fuselage."

Pherson has been awarded the Air Medal with clusters for flights over Germany and the occupied countries on bomber escort.

Canal Project Being Revived

WASHINGTON, April 8.—A new plan to authorize post-war construction of a $38,000,000 canal from the Ohio river to Struthers in the Ohio steel mill district is being considered by a Senate commerce sub-committee.

The authorization would be added to an omnibus rivers and harbors bill passed recently by the House and awaiting action by the Senate commerce committee. Sub-committee hearings are expected to begin late this month or early in May.

Senator Burton, Republican, Ohio, said he was ready to support the plan to remove any doubts as to whether the army engineers already have authority to construct the canal by improving the Beaver and Mahoning rivers.

LOCAL STUDENTS ON HONOR ROLL

NEW WILMINGTON, April 8.—Two local students, Miss Joan Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Simpson, 432 Leasure avenue, and James Hares, son of Mr. and Mrs. Job Hares, 1510 South Jefferson street, have been placed on the honor roll at Westminster college.

VICTORY GARDEN NOTES

By LEWIS C. DAYTON, County Agent
"PLANT HARD VEGETABLES EARLY"
As soon as the soil is dry enough to be worked, hardy vegetables should be planted. Among these vegetables are—peas, lettuce, radishes, carrots, beets, onions, cabbage, and spinach.

Peas will not produce well during hot weather. Unless they can be planted early in April, they should be omitted in the garden. If several varieties are used, it is advisable to plant all of them at one time. Early varieties which do well are—Little Marvel, Thomas Laxton, and Worlds Record. Second early varieties are—Stride and Gilbo. Late variety—Aldeiman, which must be supported with wire or brush.

Leaf lettuce will usually be more satisfactory than head lettuce in Lawrence county. Black Seeded Simpson is the suggested variety. Several plantings should be made to insure a supply over a period of time.

Red Core Chantenay Carrots, Detroit Dark Red Beets, Ebenezer onion sets, and Utah Valencia onion plants are among the satisfactory varieties in these crops. Two or more plantings of beets and carrots should be made in every garden. A few heads of early cabbage are desired in most gardens. The Golden Acre or Copenhagen market varieties are suggested. Glory is a mid-season variety. Scarlet Globe Radishes will provide the earliest crop from seed in the garden.

Smooth Nobel or Savoy Long Standing Spinach when planted early are the most satisfactory varieties of this crop. For a summer crop of spinach, plant the New Zealand variety.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(INS)—Capture of a small Japanese surface craft with a crew of four by a squadron of American planes was revealed today in reports of naval air activity during the recent invasion of the Marshall Islands.
The planes were Grumman Avenger torpedo bombers which were heading back to their carrier when they sighted a 25 foot motor sailboat miles off Kwajalein.
The enemy vessel was sighted by Machinists Mate Donald Jacobs, gunner in a plane piloted by Lt. Andrew Lett, Jr., Atlanta, Ga.
The craft appeared to be crewless but Lett swept low threatening the vessel with his guns. Meanwhile other planes in the squadron joined him and soon the pilots saw four Japanese waving their hands in surrender.
Lt. Comdr. Richard Upson, Pensacola, Fla., squadron leader, dispatched word of the capture to the task force. The Avengers circled the enemy vessel until a destroyer arrived to take possession.

Fish Dealers Tell How O.P.A. Rules Are Now Evaded

WASHINGTON, April 8.—(INS)—Massachusetts fish dealers told congress today that fishermen are accepting expense-paid trips, cars, and movie tickets as compensation for selling fish to buyers at black market prices.

Edward Newton, fish wholesaler from New Bedford, Mass., testified before a house merchant marine subcommittee investigating the fish industry that "every means under the sun is used to evade" OPA fish ceilings.

"It is a rotten situation," he declared. "Prices must be enforced by OPA or thrown out."

Newton said fish buyers are guided away from legitimate wholesalers by "fellows who run around saying, 'don't go in there. You'll have to pay ceiling prices.'"

In the black market transactions, Newton contended, crews of fishermen are given "anything they want"—planes, theater tickets, good times, only expense-paid trips to Boston, automobiles and paid-off mortgages.

During World War I, the carrier pigeons used by the U. S. Army under fire, delivered 90 percent of their messages.
